Problem 3: Singing it in Tlingit (25 marks)

Given below are 21 phrases in Tlingit[3] and their corresponding English translations in arbitrary order. Note that capitalized words in both languages are proper nouns, but not all proper nouns in Tlingit may be capitalized.[4]

A. lingit’aaní	i. around the outside of a house
B. daaká.hít	ii. someone’s footprint
C. dáanaa s’aatí	iii. spring
D. dáanaa yéilaa	iv. roofing paper
E. Gagaan Hít	v. rich person
F. gagaan wakdáana	vi. descendants of Raven
G. gagaan x̲’us.eetí	vii. sunglasses
H. hít s’aatí	viii. sunlight
I. héen x̲’aká	ix. clan leader
J. k̲aa s’aatí	x. Raven House
K. k̲aa x̲’us.eetí	xi. Milky Way
L. Lqlaya’k’ x̲’us.eetí	xii. Sun House
M. Lqlaya’k’.x̲’ahéeni	xiii. Winter Village
N. tàakw.àani	xiv. the world
O. tàakw.eeti	xv. envelope
P. hít kax’úx’u	xvi. Lk̲’ayáak’w’s saliva
Q. x̲’a	xvii. on the mouth of the water
R. x’úx’ daakáx’úx’	xviii. Halloween mask
S. Yéil Hít	xix. counterfeit money
T. yéil.eetí k̲áa	xx. someone’s boss
U. yéilaa	xxi. mouth

Assignment 1: (15 marks)

Determine the correct correspondences.

Assignment 2: (2 marks)

What does Lqlaya’k! x̲’us.eetí literally mean?

[3]The Tlingit language is a branch of the Na-Dene language family and is spoken by approximately 500 people in southeastern Alaska and western Canada.

[4]é, ú, í, and á are vowels; . is a glottal stop (like the sound in “uh-oh”); ! is a click consonant; x̲, k̲, and g̲ are other consonants; and ’ after a consonant indicates it is ejective, i.e. produced with a burst of air from the back of the throat.

Raven House, Sun House, and On The Water House are the names of Tlingit clans. Winter Village is the Tlingit name for Metlakatla, Annette Island. In Tlingit mythology, Raven is the creator god, described as being both a person and a raven and known as a cunning trickster. Lk̲’ayáak’w was a hero who chased Dry Cloud, a mythical being, for months, until they both fled up into the skies and could no longer return. A Halloween mask is a mask worn during the festival of Halloween, with the aim of concealing one’s identity.

Assignment 3: (4 marks)

Translate the following Tlingit phrases literally into English. Their meanings are provided for reference.

(a) wax̲’ahéeni, “tears”

(b) k̲aa x̲’a.eetí, “leftover food”

Assignment 4: (4 marks)

Translate into Tlingit: (a) mayor; (b) On The Water House.

– Pratyush Vempati

Problem 4: Wiradjuri (20 marks)

Here are some sentences in Wiradjuri[5] and their corresponding English translations.

inarru burai bume	a woman beat a child
bumalali nal	strike me again
nal bumani dyin	I was struck by him
bumai malang ngin-dyu	I should strike him
inarru wille dharalgiri	a woman will eat an opossum[6]
ngin yala ngin bumali	tell him to beat him
yalai malang-nga ngin	he should have been told bumai malang-nga nal	I should have been struck
karia ngin bumalali	let him not be struck again
karia bumalmambia	do not let him strike
bumali ngin-dyu	let me strike him
buma ngin	strike him
mirridu wille bume	a dog beat an opossum

Additionally, note that gibir means “man”.

Assignment 1: (3 marks)

Translate from Wiradjuri:

(a) karia mirri dharalmambia

(b) willedu inar bumalgiri

(c) karia nal buma

[5]Wiradjuri is a language in the Pama-Nyungan family spoken by approximately 1500 people in Australia.
[6]An opossum is a nocturnal marsupial roughly the size of a house cat.